MEMORANDUM

TO: Academic Deans and Directors
FROM: Reed Dasenbroke
Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs

SUBJECT: Reminder about Examinations

March 19, 2012

The schedule for final examinations is published in the Spring 2012 Registration Guide (formerly called Schedule of Classes) on page 8. In addition, tradition and policy provide that final examinations are required in all undergraduate courses except writing courses, directed reading, creative arts, research, seminars internships, and field experiences. Final examinations are required in Writing Intensive (W) courses, unless the course is in one of the above categories. Moreover, examinations must be taken during the scheduled period. No examinations (other than laboratory tests and short quizzes) are allowed during the two calendar weeks prior to the final examination period. Therefore, Tuesday, April 17, 2012 is the last day for midterm examinations this semester.

Take-home examinations may be distributed at the discretion of the course instructor, but completion cannot be required prior to the date and time in the published final examination schedule.
